

WHO WILL GET THE PIANO?

It has always been the policy of this store to carry goods that the people want and to sell these goods at fair prices. The giving away of this Piano will not affect this policy. The Piano will be given away as a free will offering, to show our appreciation of the people who trade with us. We hope to come in closer touch with all our old customers, and to meet with many new ones. If you do not wish to enter the contest yourself, you can transfer your certificates to any friend or church whom you wish to get the Piano. Get your friends interested in your behalf. Have your out of town friends help you. Get a good start by beginning early. The early bird catches the worm. There will be special sales of goods in our store from week to week. Come in and examine the Piano, it is in our store now. MAGNIFICENT $350 COTE PIANO. Each Saturday we will have an expert player to prove to you the merits of this Piano. Music free. More new goods arriving every day. Plenty of good shoes for winter. Plenty of Groceries and Dry Goods for every body. Highest prices paid for produce. Certificates given with every purchase for Piano.

NOTICE ON POLITICS

Readers of the correspondence this week will find many different views expressed. The Citizen, as usual, does not make itself responsible for any of these, but allows its correspondents to say what they please, so long as it is decent. The editors' opinion on politics will always be found only on the first page.

The Lesson of Leprosy.

The main lesson of leprosy is somewhat philosophic. All Europe for centuries was covered with it, but the quick, strong reactive blood of the white race strangled the germs of death, so it is doubtful if whites could ever be pestered much again. Yellow races, of slower, weaker blood, are still slowly stewing with it.

The Root of All Good.

In the man whose childhood has known caresses there lies a fiber of memory which can be touched to nobler issues.—George Elliot.

THINGS WORTH READING

Politics is all to the front this week and The Citizen leads all Kentucky weeklies in its review of the subject. If you are interested in politics—and who is not?—you will want to read our two articles on that subject this week. The first and best is under the Washington date line—by our special correspondent who has unusual sources of information and writes with the knowledge of one who is on the inside. The other article on Kentucky affairs, has been prepared after careful consultation with men whose political acumen has won them reputation and success, and represents the ideas which many politicians are secretly holding but which most of them are afraid to openly avow. They may not be right, but they have mighty good backing. Read them, anyhow.

Next week we will have another remarkable article from Washington. It will take up the recent attack upon Joe Cannon, showing his place in Congress, the sources of his power, the reasons for the attack on him and the extent to which he is to blame for the real evils of modern political life. If you want to know the facts, read this article.

We expect to print next week the article spoken of some time ago—telling of the woman, who so far as we know, has more descendants than any other living person. Her record is a wonderful one, and a credit to the mountains, and to Jackson County, her home. There are probably over a hundred of her relatives and descendants who read The Citizen. Watch for that article.

Woman a Poultry Expert.

Miss N. Edwards, of Coakley, Gloucestershire, is said to be the highest authority in England on poultry. She has won over 1,000 prizes and exported poultry into every country. Beginning in a small way with only twenty fowls, her poultry farm is now one of the largest in England. She does not raise chickens for the general market, but sells eggs and stock birds.

Why He Was Glad.

The honeymoon had begun to bump the usual bumps.
"George, dear," queried the bride of six months, "are you glad you're married?"
"Sure thing," replied George.
"Why are you glad?" she asked.
"Because," he explained, "it will prevent me from making any more mistakes of that kind for the present."

Coeducation in America.

In elementary schools 96 per cent. of the children of the United States are in coeducational schools; in secondary schools the proportion for co-education is 95 per cent.; of colleges and universities attended by men 68 per cent. admit women.

Students Find Lead Mine.

A vein of lead and zinc ore has been discovered on the grounds of the school of Mines at Platteville, Wis., and will be opened up by the students.
